

My art narrates my spiritual awakening through diverse styles and creations, each collection exploring new creative techniques inspired by life experiences. It's a personal journey that healed my self-image, using my creativity for meditative healing and pure expression. I aim to create art that resonates with others, unlocking limitless potential and touching the heart.